

Letter 930c
The Marxist Slave State of Washington
Part 4
The Democrats Show Their True Colors
2024-12-27

Dear Yeshua,

Friday, 27 December 2024, 9:25AM

A while back two things occurred which had nothing directly to do with the impairment of the 2nd Amendment, but which by themselves revealed the true nature of the Democratic Party in Washington State.

These two things are that Christine Gregoire, when she was either Attorney General (1993-2005) or Governor (2005-2013):

1) ... issued an edict that stipulated all pharmacies provide “counseling” to their customers when purchasing prescription medications. Rather than leaving that private relationship up to the individuals involved, Gregoire took the position that the “Government knows best” by invading and micro-managing the relationship between Client and Pharmacy. After that, some pharmacies took the edict as a legal mandate, and forced the customer to listen to the pharmacist’s counseling, whether the Client wanted to hear it or not. Other pharmacies offered the choice not to hear the counseling, but required a signature from the customer so stating that counseling was being “rejected”. (Interestingly, the edict had no effect on drugs received by mail-order, as there was no personal relationship to invade.)

2) ... harassed and sued a family owned house moving business. This was because one of the family members, a son of 12 years old, would perform tasks the “government” deemed too dangerous for a younger person to perform. The government then threatened to break up the family in order to achieve their notion of “safety”. The family chose to move themselves and their business to the State of Idaho, rather than continue to be harassed by the Washington State Democratic Party.

In both of these cases, the Democrats sought to micro-manage either a private relationship and/or activity, in rebellion against the confines of their legal mandate to uphold individual Liberty through obeying and honoring their oaths to the Constitutions of both the State of Washington and the United States.

But these two representational edicts are only the tip of the iceberg. For many years, the Democratically controlled legislature has passed or attempted to pass anti-family measures.

Gun control has also been at the top of the order for the Democrats, having passed laws within the last decade which both infringe and impair the individual’s right to keep and bear arms. And as of this writing, they seek to pass even more such laws.

Two other incidents reinforce what I am saying. These happened within the last 2 years.

One time I was at the store, and wanted to purchase a small, handheld barbecue propane lighter. When I went through the checkout, it flagged as being an “age-sensitive” item. The attendant wanted me to scan my driver's license, which I refused to permit. A manager was then called over, and authorized an over-ride. But a question emerged in my mind;

“Who mandated such a requirement?
The State? The Store?
And why is a BBQ lighter age-restricted at all?”

This made ZERO sense.

The other incident is like the first. I was reading the webpage of the grocery store that I do business with. One of the features is that you can place an order and pay through the web-site. Upon arriving at the store, the staff will bring out the groceries out to your car. This is very convenient, and I have used this service quite a bit. But I was befuddled at one disclaimer I read on one of the pages. It said that if one wanted to purchase alcoholic beverages and have them brought out to the car, one needed to buy at least $25.00 worth of food items. Again this made no sense, as one could just as easily go into the store and buy their beer, without any restrictions other than age.

My question arises once more.

Who made this edict?
The Store?
The State?
Both?

All this has happened under the rulership of the Democratic Party.

The Democratic Party is determined to rule the State of Washington through invasive micro-management of the individual (which is the hallmark of Marxism), whose lives they seek to continue to enslave for their own gratification.

For this reason, I too seek to move to a free state such as Idaho, where the Liberty to keep and bear arms still lives, and the Government minds (most of) its own business, while staying out of We The People's.

This is my hope, though I will never give up praying for the restoration of Liberty to Washington, and the return of Freedom to the State in which I grew up.

Amen.

Many Blessings, and Much Shalom...
